The Jack Griesenbeck Leadership in Regionalism Award

Eligibility
Elected official or volunteer who played a pivotal role in bringing the spirit of regionalism to a project or initiative.

Award Criteria
The individual nominated should have influenced a relationship between organizations, governmental agencies or committees representing multiple political jurisdictions to accomplish the project or initiative, either on a one-time or ongoing basis.

The nature of the project or initiative may be planning or implementation involving issues such as health, education, safety, economic development, transportation, natural resources, housing or any others that contribute to the growth and development of the region. The project or initiative must have taken place during the calendar year and have primarily focused on an issue within the CAPCOG region.

Selection and Award
A committee of CAPCOG elected officials, committee members and staff will review applications and select the winner, who will be announced at the CAPCOG General Assembly annual meeting on Dec. 12.

Application Process
The candidate must be nominated by a CAPCOG member, but does not have to represent or be employed by a CAPCOG member. Nominations should address the following:

1.) What was the nature of the project or initiative on which the nominee worked, including his or her role?

2.) Which organizations, agencies, or committees were brought together to achieve regional cooperation, and why was this necessary to accomplish the project or initiative?

3.) What was the outcome of the project, and were the goals or objectives achieved?

4.) How did the nominee make a difference in achieving success?
