

Blue Skyways Webinar - 2:00 pm - 3:30 pm Central on June 16, 2010

Opportunities to Improve Air Quality, Reduce Greenhouse Gases and Get Co-Benefits

This webcast is sponsored by the EPA Regions 6 and 7 air programs and the Blue Skyways Collaborative. It is intended for local governments and metropolitan planning organizations; departments of planning, health, and economic development; chambers of commerce and industry coalitions; environmental, transportation, and sustainability nonprofits; and other federal partners – especially in communities that are approaching the air quality standard for ozone.

Presentations will include: short, medium, and long term actions for achieving co-benefits for your community. Actions discussed will include public education, outreach campaigns, air quality and or climate plans, energy efficiency, clean diesel, alternative fuels; transportation planning, green building, and renewable energy. You will hear directly from local governments who will share their experiences with implementation and achieving co-benefits. A question and answer session will follow the presentations.
